

The Well

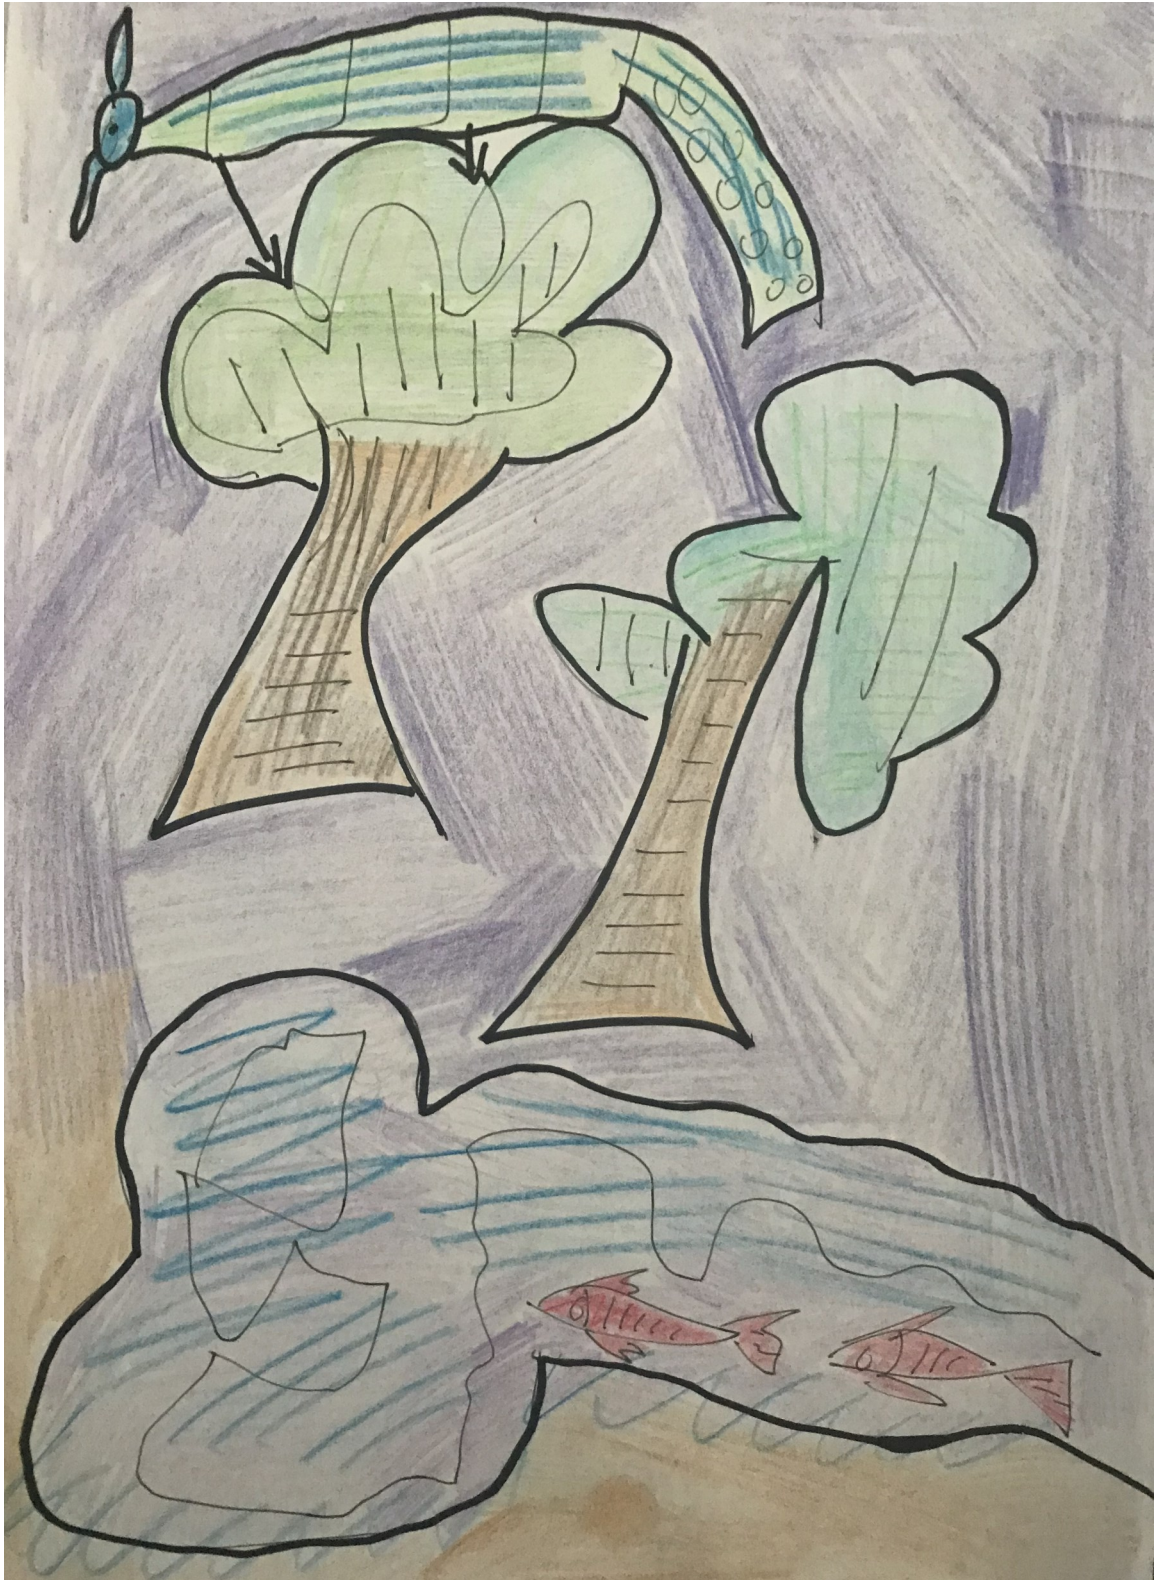

Once upon a time, there was a boy who loved drinking sweet water from a neighbour's well.

One day, the neighbour, a loud and boisterous giant, caught him in the act.

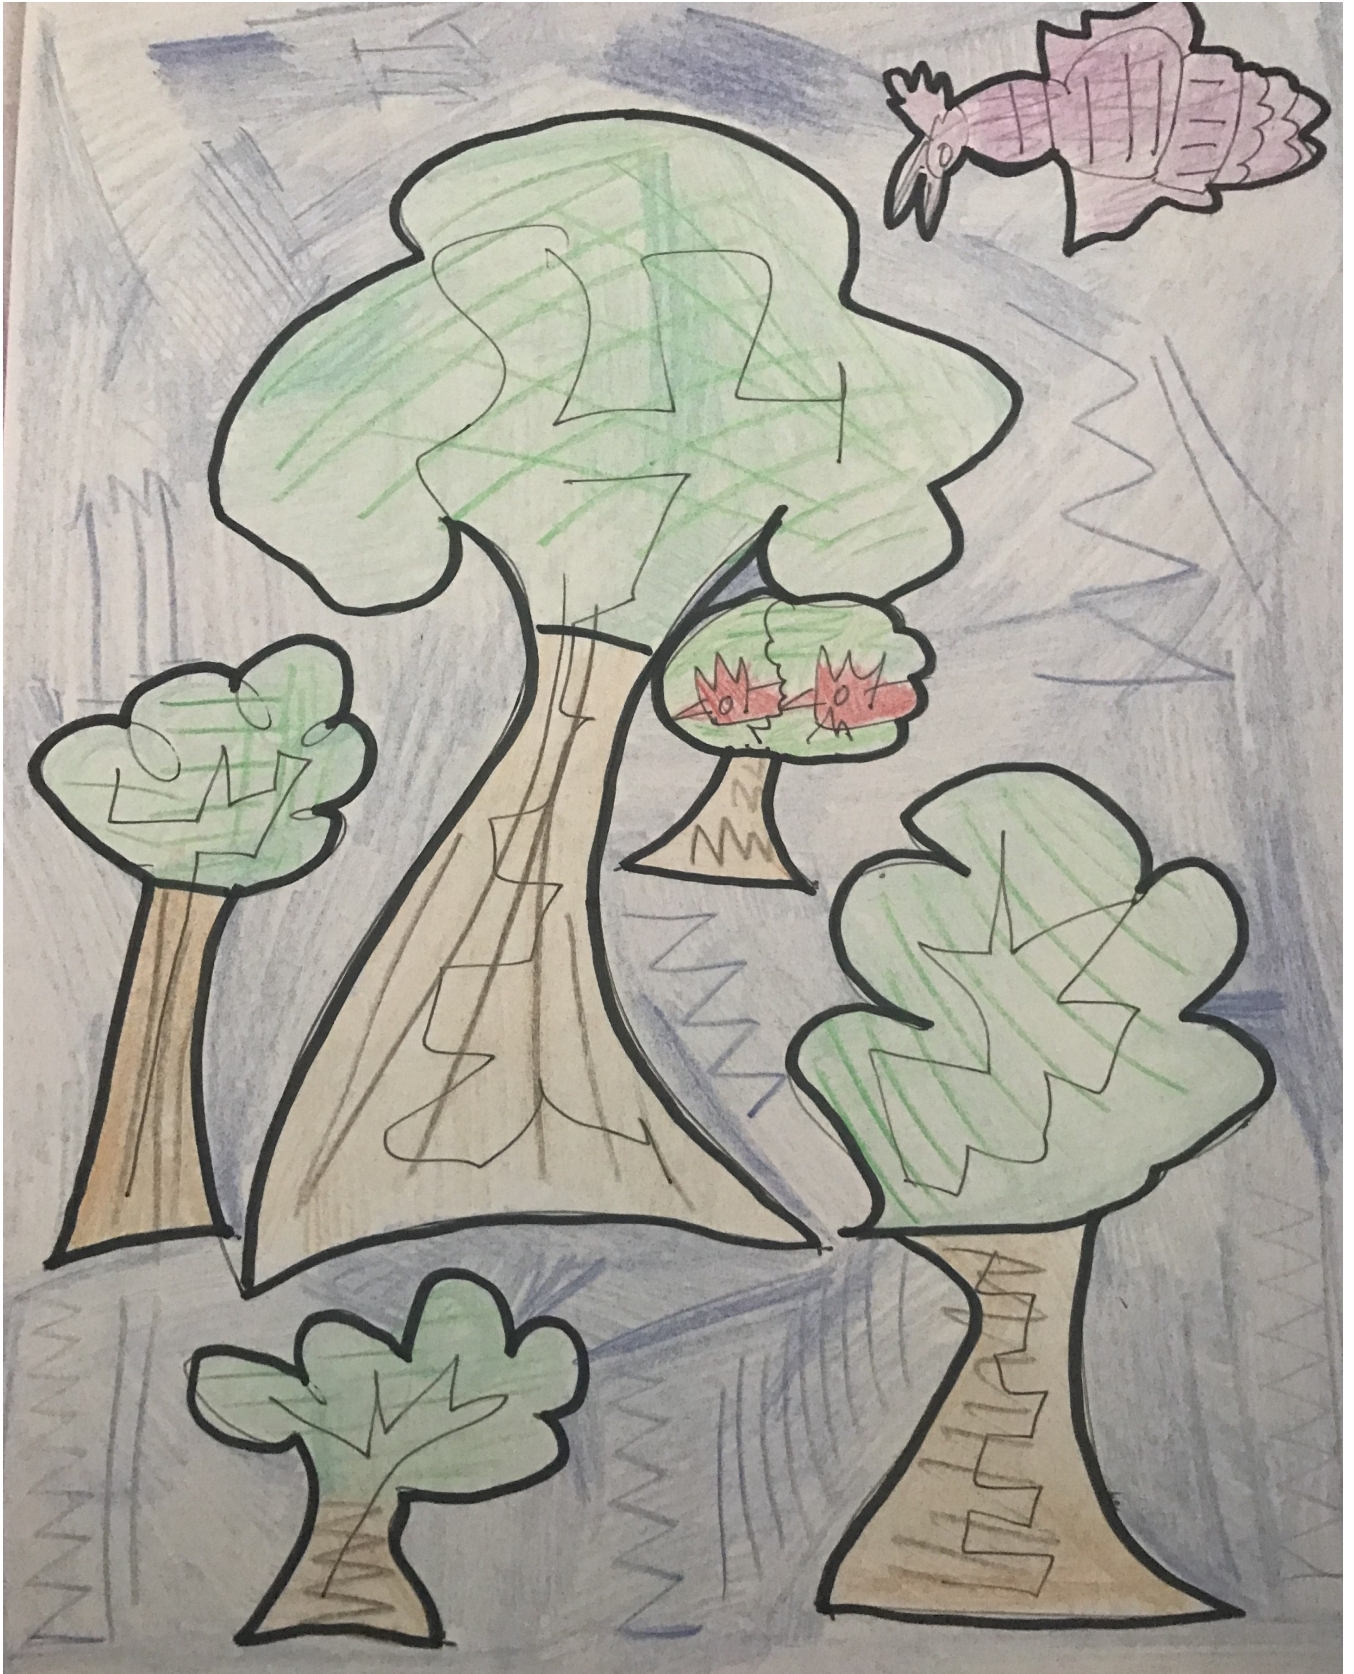

The neighbour asked the boy to repay him by bringing a sweet mango from the forest.

The boy brought a mango, but it was sour.

He was sent out again to get a sweet mango.

This time the boy brought back 5
mangoes, all sweet.

They both saw down and eat the mangoes. They were thirsty so they drank sweet water from the well.

